Yet again, I am very pleased to thank scholars who sent in references, and hope they will not mind my not mentioning them individually. As with so many bibliographies in this Centre for Idealism and the New Liberalism working paper series, I owe a particularly significant debt to Peter Nicholson for identifying publications that I missed. I only am responsible for the remaining errors. As always, I would be very grateful if readers could help to fill the identified gaps and to let me know of any undetected errors. Future versions will acknowledge these contributions in the relevant Acknowledgement pages.

arts and humanities research board

‘The Arts and Humanities Research Board (AHRB) funds postgraduate and advanced research within the UK’s higher education institutions and provides funding for museums, galleries and collections that are based in, or attached to, HEIs within England. The AHRB supports research within a huge subject domain - from ‘traditional’ humanities subjects, such as history, modern languages and English literature, to music and the creative and performing arts.’

I have also profited enormously from having access to the Brynmor Jones Library at the University of Hull, a resource which benefits from an excellent stock of written and electronic sources, as well as extremely helpful and friendly librarians. My thanks also go to Dr Christopher Bearman, the research assistant on this and other projects. This bibliography is an up-dated version of the one included in my edition of the Collected Works of Edward Caird (Bristol: Thoemmes, 1999), vol. 11, pp.xxiii-xxxviii. Peter Nicholson and Henry R.

Mendell have provided additional references. The remaining deficiencies are my responsibility alone.

I wish to thank Philip de Bary for permission to reproduce Section II ('Reviews'), which appears in Colin Tyler, ed., Early Reviews and Responses to the British Idealists: Volume 1 (London: Thoemmes Continuum, 2004), pp.213-218.

Printed in Colin Tyler, ed., Unpublished Manuscripts in British Idealism: Political philosophy, theology and social theory, 2 vols. (Bristol: Thoemmes Continuum, 2005), vol. 2:

- (a) 'Reform and Reformation'
- (b) 'Lectures on Moral Philosophy: Social Ethics'
- (c) 'Essay on Mysticism'
- (d) Report on Mr. Moore's Essay'
- (e) Reference for JME MacTaggart's D.Litt'
- (f) [Edward Caird's Glasgow Lectures on Moral Philosophy.]
- (g) [Schedule of Edward Caird's Lectures at Oxford, 1893-1905.]

'Spencer' [ca. 1874], ed. C. Tyler, Collingwood and British Idealism Studies, vol. 12, no. 1 (Spring 2006), 5-38.

Most of Caird's manuscripts (including unpublished lecture notes, speeches and essays) and correspondence (to and from Caird for the period up until the end of his professorship at Glasgow (effectively, 1851 to 1893), and to Jones and Muirhead regarding their Life and Philosophy of Edward Caird (see below)) are deposited in the Special Collections Department of the University of Glasgow Library. Other manuscripts and correspondence are held in Oxford at Balliol College Library and the Bodleian Library, and in Cambridge at Trinity College Library.

A selection of Caird's philosophical letters are published in Jones and Muirhead's Life (pp. 163–242). Five letters from Benjamin Jowett to Caird are published in E. Abbott and L. Campbell (eds.), Life and Letters of Benjamin Jowett, MA, 2 vols. (London: John Murray, 1897), vol. 1, pp. 441–3, 443–5, vol. 2, pp. 325, 340, 446, together with an extract from one letter from Caird to John Nichol (vol. 1, p.333); one further letter is included in their Letters of Benjamin Jowett (London: John Murray, 1899), pp. 190–91. One letter from Caird to Alfred Marshall, and two from Marshall to Caird are printed AC Pigou, (ed.), Memoirs of Alfred Marshall (London: MacMillan, 1925), pp.398-403 and reprinted in John K. Whitaker (ed.), The Correspondence of Alfred Marshall, Economist: Volume 2. At the Summit, 1891–1902 (Cambridge: CUP, 1996), letts. 552, 542 and 549, respectively. There are three letters from Caird to F. H. Bradley in C. Keene and W. J. Mander (eds.), The Collected Works of F. H. Bradley, 12 vols. (Bristol: Thoemmes Press, 1999), vol. 4, pp. 9–10, 73–4, 76–7; Caird was a signatory of a letter to Bradley at ibid, vol. 5, pp. 10–11. One letter from Sir Henry Jones to Caird is reprinted in H.J.W. Hetherington, The Life and Letters of Sir Henry Jones (London: Hodder and Stoughton, 1924), pp.185-6.

The Special Collections Department of the University of Glasgow Library holds many of the books which Caird owned during his time at Glasgow, including a mixed and sporadically annotated set of Hegel's Werke (bought by Caird at various time from ca.1863). 'Vols.8 and 10.3 are third editions; vols. 16, 17, 18, 19.1 and 19.2 are first editions; vol.19 published in Leipzig./Set lacks vols. 2 and 10.1.' (from Glasgow Library Special Collections catalogue entry). Volume 8 = 1854 German edition of the Philosophy of Right (signed on 'Werke' title page: 'Edward Caird/ Ball. Coll. 1863'). Volume 9 is the 1840 German edition of the Philosophy of History. Volumes were rebound in 1931. The Caird material at Glasgow is detailed on Glasgow University Library Special Collections catalogue, which can be accessed via the Internet.
